

CALL FOR RESEARCH PARTICIPANTS

Are you an East Asian English language teacher in the Greater Toronto Area?

- Have you worked in the GTA for 1+ year(s)?
- Have you taught students of your shared cultural and/or racial background(s)?
- Are you a resident of Canada and/or think of Canada as your home?

 Eligibility criteria are purposefully phrased to encompass a broad variety of identities.*

If you answered "yes" to the above questions, you may be interested in participating in my study! I am an MA student of Language and Literacies Education at OISE/UofT. My thesis research aims to investigate the experiences of East Asian English language teachers within private and public contexts in the Greater Toronto Area.

You will be asked to participate in one 60-minute online interview and optionally write a short reflection on your experiences. Participants will receive a digital gift card as a token of gratitude for their time.

If interested in participating and/or if you have questions about my study, please contact me at erica.sung@mail.utoronto.ca.

Approval for this study has been granted by the University of Toronto Research Ethics Board (Protocol #50383).
